URGENT APPEAL to the general public

Wirt Ghawdex would like to appeal to the general public to refrain from climbing up to the Salvatur statue in Marsalforn while it is under restoration.

The appeal is also to respect the on-site watchmen's instructions and to obey the "No Entry" and "Danger Zone" signs at the location. Climbing the scaffolding is strictly prohibited. These precautions are necessary to ensure the safety of all involved and anyone seen ignoring these instructions will be reported to the police.
